importance and impact of theological education in the 21st century. Dr. Lee is known as an innovative thinker when it comes to theological education in the 21st century. He is highly relational both with internal seminary stakeholders and with the broader community. He has a proven track record in advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion in a seminary setting. And he values ecumenism while being deeply committed to helping PTS stay true to its Presbyterian identity.”

Throughout his career, Dr. Lee has taught courses in religious studies, Christian formation, preaching, and church leadership as well as theology in the African American context.

I am excited about this great opportunity of God’s servant bringing his gifts to bless our church. You are invited. Hope you will not miss! God bless you.

Time: Adult Education starts at 9:15am Church service starts at 10:15am

Presbyterian Historical Society offers NEW BLOG SERIES: AFRICAN AMERICAN LEADERS - Each month of 2023, the Presbyterian Historical Society is bearing witness to the lives of African American leaders throughout the history of the PC(USA). They are kicking off this new series with a biography of William Lloyd Imes, pastor of St. James Presbyterian Church in Harlem, New York. Click here to read more.

Shenango Presbytery, with the financial assistance of the Carolyn Knox Foundation, will be welcoming Rev. Dr. Tod Bolsinger to their presbytery in May. Tod is a renowned thinker in leadership development and leading change specifically in the church sphere. He is a PCUSA pastor who now serves at Fuller Seminary while also traveling the world coaching and consulting. He has written 3 books on leadership: It takes a Church to raise a Christian, Canoeing the Mountains, and most recently Tempered Resilience.

Tod will be offering a seminar called “How Not to Waste a Crisis” on Sunday May 7th from 3-5:30 at Northminster Presbyterian Church in New Castle, PA. This should be an excellent time to talk about how to lead in these changing times. We are working on a live stream option if it is too far to travel, especially on a Sunday, and encourage you to consider a “watch party” with your leaders so you can take advantage of this opportunity within your own community. A flyer is included with all the details.

Following that leadership summit for all leaders, Tod will spend 2 days (full day 9 am- approx. 9 pm on Monday and through lunch on Tuesday) with our pastors and CREs at Villa Maria, a conference and retreat center in Villa Maria, PA to dig deeper to discuss leading in the church in these uncertain times. Commuting as well as overnight options are available, however the overnight options will be on a first come first serve basis because of the limited number of rooms available. A flyer is included with all the details.

DEATH AND DEVASTATION IN TURKEY & SYRIA - By now you are aware of the terrible losses suffered from earthquake damage in Turkey and Syria. Presbyterian Disaster Assistance provides an avenue for you and your congregation to contribute to Christian relief efforts over there.
